Retro revival

1 This Naughty Kittens coin purse (£10) in printed cotton with a boiled-wool reverse is handmade by Sarah Culleton who uses recycled materials in her textile accessories (www.sarahculleton.bigcartel.com) ✉.

2 Kent-based silversmith Tamsin Spencer creates jewellery such as this necklace (£75), from sterling silver wire and vintage finds including buttons, watch faces, buckles and even chandelier pieces (01227 731575; www.tamsindesignsjewellery.com) ✉.

3 Emma Dolan takes inspiration from children's illustrations, classic ceramic designs and nostalgic textile prints to make unique items in Harris Tweed. This Waving cup is £35 (07914 964790; www.emmadolan.co.uk) ✉.

4 Holly Lasseter's hand-painted china ranges from one-off commissions to entire dinner services, as well as murals on tiled bathroom or kitchen walls. This large platter costs from £130-£150 (01305 815784; www.hollylasseterdesigns.co.uk) ✉.

5 Simple and stylish, TMO Lighting's glass base and linen shade (from £275) suit traditional and contemporary interiors alike (01935 891525; www.tmolighting.com) ✉.

6 Online store Twice sells an array of home accessories, including practical items such as this retro enamel soap bowl, £5.50 (01738 860066; www.twice.co) ✉.

7 Store sweets and treats in the Dot Com Gift Shop's vintage-style confectionery jar, £6.95; other designs are also available (020 8746 2473; www.dotcomgiftshop.com) ✉.

8 Brewers, the independent supplier of decorating materials, has launched a useful online Designer Paint service, which helps you select the right colour and finish for great results – see our special offer on page 144 (01323 430886; www.designerpaint.co.uk). ▷
